

The logo for the 2014 Commonwealth Games in Gold Coast, Australia. It features the words "GOLD COAST" in a bold, sans-serif font, arranged in four lines: "GOLD" on top, "COAST" on the second line, "2014" on the third line, and "COMMONWEALTH GAMES" on the bottom. The letters are colored in large sections: "GOLD" is red, "COAST" is blue, "2014" is white, and "COMMONWEALTH GAMES" is a combination of red and blue. The logo is set against a white background with two blue five-pointed stars, one above the "O" in "COAST" and one below the "G" in "GOLD". A central circular emblem, partially visible, contains a stylized figure.

The logo consists of a 3x3 grid of colored squares. The top row contains a red square with a white 'T', a blue square with a white five-pointed star, and a blue square with a white 'B'. The middle row contains a red square with a white 'O', a blue square with a white 'E', and a blue square with a white 'I'. The bottom row contains a red square with a white 'N', a blue square with a white 'G', and a blue square with a white 'A'. The letters are bold and outlined.
